

Harold Lavender

Business Development, CNM Ingenuity

Harold Lavender, Jr., employed by Central New Mexico Community College (CNM), serves in a Business and Financial Development role for CNM Ingenuity.

Following graduation from the University of New Mexico School of Law and after a brief time in practice, Mr. Lavender moved to Chicago and spent 34 years as a trader and broker at the Chicago Board of Trade. He was twice elected to the CBOT Board of Directors and served three terms on the Executive Committee. He returned to Albuquerque in 2010 and was of counsel at Modrall Spering and at Montgomery & Andrews and worked with Robert Singer at the New Mexico Law Group. He is now an Inactive Member of the New Mexico Bar.

Mr. Lavender served on the boards of the Bank of the Rio Grande and Quality New Mexico, and as an advisor to New Mexico Community Capital. He is a past president of the University of New Mexico Alumni Association and is a member of the Investment Committee and Impact Investment Committee of the Albuquerque Community Foundation. He was appointed by the New Mexico Legislature to the New Mexico State Investment Council in 2011, reappointed in 2013 and again in 2019. He serves as the Chairman of the Council Investment Committee.